SUMMARY

I'm an aspiring Sports Graphic Designer and a basketball student-athlete with a strong passion for sports. I have experience creating graphics for a sports league, including player highlights, game-day posts, and team announcements. I enjoy using Adobe Photoshop and Canva to design bold and engaging content that reflects the energy and emotion of the game. Being an athlete myself helps me understand what makes sports content impactful and exciting. I've been building my skills through hands-on practice and personal projects, always aiming to improve and stay in tune with sports design trends. I'm detail-oriented, motivated, and currently looking for remote opportunities where I can contribute creatively and grow in the sports design field.
